PRIME MINISTER CHAMBER-LAIN REPLIES TO VON RIBBENTROP SPEECH

While Halifax was speaking in the upper house Prime Minister Chamberlain was declaring in Commons that Britain was ready to cope with Germany's "fight to the finish."

Lord Halifax said Britain's pledge to Poland had been only "to provide against the case of aggression by Germany" though he admitted "it is quite true that it makes no difference to the Poles whether they are invaded from the east or west."

Chamberlain, addressing the House of Commons, accused Germany of inviting Soviet Russia "to join a crusade against the British Empire,"

The foreign secretary said the possibility of new trade agreements with Russia was being examined.

The prime minister, giving his weekly war report to the House of Commons, replied directly to the Danzig declaration of German Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop that Germany would make a finish fight.

"There can be but one reply," said Chamberlain, "and we are propared to give it."

His accusation that Germany sought to bring Russia into the war against Britain brought laughter from Soviet Ambassador Ivan Maisky who was listening from the diplomatic gallery.

Chamberlain gave official confirmation that the German pocket battleship Deutchsland sank the British freighter Stonegate, indicating that the swift warship was operating on the high seas operating on the high seas far outside the British blockade.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 26.—(P)— Investigators concluded today that Winnie Ruth Judd, 34-yearold trunk, marderess, escaped through an unlocked door from the Arizona state hospital for the insane Tuesday night.

Y. C. White, executive secretary to Gov. Bob Jones, said an all-night investigation revealed that one door from the woman's ward leading to the outside was unlocked Tuesday and remained unlocked throughout yesterday.

A Maxican girl attendant slent

A Mexican girl attendant slept in a bed pushed against the door, which opened outward, White said attendants told him. Most of the attendants and patients went to a dance Tuesday night.

"I am convinced now the attendant was not in her bed, or that the bed previously had been pushed away from the door, and that all Winnie Ruth had to do was walk out." White said.

The slim, blonde slayer of her two best friends, who dismembered their bodies and stuffed them into trunks which were shipped to Los Angeles, refused to attend the dance and was left unattended in the ward.

White expressed the belief Mrs. Judd was still in Phoenix. Sheriff's deputies kept their vigil at the hone of her parents, the Rev. and Mrs. H. J. McKinnell

The United States embassy said the German foreign office had "informally communicated" to the embassy that the City of Flint entered Murmansk because she had suffered "havarie" (sea damage) and that her American crew was safe and unhurt.

Authorized German sources said the case of the American ship had been clarified between Germany and Soviet Russia.

A Hamburg prize court, informed sources said, is expected to judge the contraband question in accordance with international law.

The City of Flint was en route to Great Britain with what Germans have said was contraband when she was boarded by a prize crew in the Atlantic.

for the Average Person

One of the first requirements for good health is— PLENTY OF RESTFUL SLEEP. Enough to meet your individual requirements of recuperation.

EAT REGULARLY well-balanced meals. Irremeals and "scrappy" eating lead to irregular bodily habits, and your bodily energy cannot keep up to par on an unbalanced diet.

EXERCISE REGULARLY in the open air. Fresh air and sunshine are Nature's best aids to health. Learn to play—swim, tennis, golf, anything wholesome and healthy that agrees with you. Plan your vacations to give you a complete change.

TAKE CARE OF YOUR EYES, TEETH, FEET, SKIN-regular-

Jolson, born Asa Yoelson in Russia 53 years ago, was married twice before he met Miss Keeler, a Broadway dancer.

The singer said family troubles which he had not considered important enough to cause divorce brought about the separation.

WAR-TIME MORALE MUST |RESIGNATION OF ROOT DEEP IN RELIGION*

A Frank Discussion of What These Times Demand of the Average Man and Woman-The Personal Peace That Outreaches War-Social Progress Inevitable, With John Barleycorn a Casualty.

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS

Both in warring and in neutral sciousness of right relations with countries there has suddenly God and with the world is a boon beyond riches. It brings in its public morale. This means that ountriopist who can an engeted an unsuccessful broadward rama, was the central figure in a complex lawsuit here today.

In District Judge M. C. Jeffrey's court, the commonwealth of Massachusetts began discussion of pleadings prior to present tation of evidence by which it hoped to obtain a Texas court, it hoped to obtain a Texas court judgment of $534,000 and interest against Davis for state income taxes allegedly due for 1926.

A judgment for that amount was granted by Massachusetts courts which decided the Luling man was a resident of the Bay State at the time he sold an oil field between Lockhart and Luling for approximately $12,000,000.

The litigation was complicated by Davis' cross-action seeking more than $5,000,000 damages for elaimed injuries to his reputation. Davis' petitition contended hewas being persecuted.

Earlier in the week, Judge Jeffrey quashed a writ of garnishment granted the eastern state by a San Antonic court against the United North and South Davis is a stockholder The jurist declared surety bonds covering the writ were inade, quate since the governor of Massachusetts had no authority to sign them. The bonds totaled $1, 500,000.

CENATOR MYNADY?

CENATOR MYNADY? women who made new nations in this western world. During the first world war, in the days of Bel-gium's fiery ordeal, I heard a Belgian professor impassionedly say to an American audience: "Don't pity us; pity yourselves, for you are only getting rich out of war."

The Challenge of the Crisis This new crisis has come to search the souls of human beings everywhere. It is the violent phase of the steady revolution that has been working like leaven in the lump of civilization ever since the previous great war. At stake are far greater interests than territorobjectives. Our whole way of life is concerned. The challenge is to man's spirit everywhere to stand for the things that make a man ı man. a man.

Like a great sheet of lighting,
Europe's bloody ordeal shows up the trivality of the present interests of many people. This is dramatically illustrated by the radio.
In contrast with the destinyfraught news broadcasts we hear the tracky sneumements shout the trashy announcements about soap and tooth paste and beauty lotions, interspersed with jazz that jars by its incongruity. The essential triviality of many of the things that have absorbed us hitherto is now revealed. How pitable are the souls that still put first are the souls that still put first their dancing, drinking, movie-minded, automobiling, fashion-fol-lowing interests! This is an hour for new sober-mindedness.

Taking Stock of Ourselves

War news should set us all to thinking "long, long thoughts," and to appraising our own souls.
George Herbert's familiar words

'By all means use some time to be

Dare to look within thy chest—for it is thine own—

And tumble up and down what thou findest there."

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 26.—(P)—
The love song of Al Jolson and Ruby Keeler is ended, but for Al the melody lingers on.

Singer Jolson sadly confirmed today reports that Miss Keeler had left him and would sue for divorce. They celebrated their tenth wed of the first had garniversary with an elaborate night club party last Sept. 21.

Jolson said that just before Ruby left he told her:

"I hope everything will work out all right. I hope you'll come back right away,"

Our present Lesson, upon Social the relation of beverage alcohol thereto, is timely. Less hard drinking and more hard thinking is the day's need. A sharp thinking is the day's need. A sharp challenge to our idle, frivolous son, as the main speaker for the events on, as the main speaker for the events on the progression on how one can adjust himself in a group—his family, his school, his business life, and cooperate successfully with that oraganization.

we must ration ourselves, in body and in spirit.

There is nothing new to be said about John Barleycorn. He has been found guilty ten thousand times at the judgment seats of social welfare, of law-observance, of personal and national prosperity, of business, of medicine, and of religion. His only plea has been that he titillates the palate and deludes the spirit of the drinkerat a price which must be paid by society as well as by the victim. In war as in peace, the only safe place for John Barleycorn is in the limbo of rejected evils. A safe world must be a sober world.

Some War-Time Needs

What does the war mean, for the world must be a sober world.

Some War-Time Needs

What does the war mean, for the average man, for you and for me?
First of all, it should revive our consciousness of personality. Each of us is a sacred unit in the Divine plan. We are not mere fragments of a social mass, but individual human beings, separate thoughts of the Creator, dowered with the sublime power of choice and decision. Thus to perceive our own distinct identity, to think our own thoughts, to accept our own personal responsibility as God's highest fift to us, is every one's gravest present duty.

Perhaps next we should list the preservation of personal peace of spirit. Although nations are at war, spiritual peace is possible to accept will meat the consideration.

WELFARE DIRECTOR DEMANDED BY ALSUP

SOLON DECLARED LIBERAL-IZATION LAW BEING IGNOR-ED BY OFFICIALS

AUSTIN, Oct. 28.—(P)—Charging the new old age pension liberalization law was being ignored, Rep. Lon E. Alsup of Carthage declared today the state public welfare board should demand the resignation of Adam R. Johnson, public welfare department director. If Johnson did not resign, Alsup said he would seek a legislative investigation of his administration. Sponsor in the house of the bill which at the last regular session of the legislature created the welfare department, Alsup further asserted Johnson had informed him he planned to keep as much of the pension administrative organization as possible and to draw any new employes from WPA and PWA rolls.

form to our standards of employment."

If have not said we were going to keep everyone, but I said we were studying the situation and if we find any who are not doing the work as they should be will make Johnson promptly denied Alsup's allegations, emphasizing the new law was not being ignored.

"All we have in mind is to carry on a program that in every way will reflect credit on the state," Johnson said.

If the new was interpreted literally as the legislature intended, 75,000 persons would be added to the pension rolls, Alsup said.

"I have not said we were going to keep everyone, but I said we were studying the situation and if we find any who are not doing the work as they should be will make changes. * * "We certainly are not ignoring the new law. The federal government has required us to investigate by next July the 122,000 now on pension rolls and this must be done so we will not lose federal aid. "It is humanly impossible to do

APPARENTLY BE WATCHFUL GAME THAT WILL GIVE HITLER ROPE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
The Anglo-French allies have made it abundantly clear that their land strategy from now on in Europe's fantastic war is to sit tight and pay out plenty of rope to Herr Hiller in the belief he will hang himself.

Being convinced that the only sort of conflict the Nazi leader originally was equipped for was a bilizkrieg (lightning war), the aliles have reached the conclusion that he already has lost the opportunity of waging such a war and is beginning to feel the lack of sinews for a protracted session.

The allied policy of watchful waiting on the western front, however, doesn't mean that the war has died at birth.

The Anglo-French naval blockade represents the fiercest offensiaging against Germany at this time.

It isn't spectacular like a land-operation. But it's there just the same—a noose which is calculated to strangle the Reich unless Hitler.

for the war of words against Germany.

New propaganda strategy was foreshadowed by an announcement in the house of lords yesterday by Lord MacMillan, minister of information, of a reorganization for greater efficiency and a reduction of the ministry staff by 30 per cent.

Responding to Lord Astor's observations that "good publicity might well shorten the war by weeks and perhaps by months," the minister acknowledged that more newspapermen were needed, Especially in the foreign department.

more newspapermen were needed, Especially in the foreign department.

Prime Minister Chamberlain's weekly review of the war was set for today in the house of commons and it was possible he would reply to German Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop's "fight-to-the-end" speech of Tuesday night at Danzig.

Fighting ships meanwhile went ahead with the most active phase of the war.

Confronted with the loss of five mehchant ships this week—bringing the war's total to 45, amounting to 399,319 tons, by the government's own figures—the British napy scanned the seas for a glimpse of one of Germany's pocket battleships.

Britain, however, reported increasing success with her blockade. R. H. Cross, minister of economic warfare, told parliament yesterday that "in general the position is that Germany is now effectively cut off from nearly all her overseas sources of supply."

This machine has revealed the surprising fact that when the voltage of a cyclotron is doubled, the energy it develops is multiplied many fold. One of the things, for example, which cyclotrons do is to render ordinary substances radioactive. They emit the same rays as radium.

Dr. Lawrence said that the things done with the present new California cyclotron prove that the giant he now proposed is entirely reasible. Its 100,000,000 volts awould give science power equal to some of the cosmic rays.

It would open, Dr. Lawrence explained to the academy, a whole new domain of knowledge, in which discoveries might be expected as surprising as X-rays and radium.

Do you think that is enough exercise to keep the flesh firm while reducing? I am 22 years old and people tell me my flesh will not sag but I am afraid it will. They say a young person is more firm and solld and that reducing will not make any difference. Is it possible to eat too many of these non-fattening foods. tening foods.

these are listed in detail. Bananas, figs, dates and raisins are higher in sugar content and would be more fattening if taken in large quantities, than would grapefruit or oranges, etc. The reason you were directed to drink milk during pregnancy was because of its calclum content. This mineral is highly important during this period because of strong bones and teeth for the infant. If the expectant mother does not supply an excess amount through her dict, Nature will draw on her own supply; as a result, the mother will suffer from tooth decay, falling hair and so on because of the loss of calcium in her system. Walking is a good exercise, but not enough on a reducing program. It does not have much effect on the waist-growers on cotton when the average price of 7-8 inch middling cotton on the nation's 10 spot markets falls below 52 per cent of "parity," the price goal of such legislation.

Officials said that an average price of about 8.3 cents would make loans mandatory. However, prices on the 10 markets now average about 8.9 cents, officials said.

In proposing a loan program at this time, agriculture department officials said they hoped to establish a "bolstering" influence on markets and previous prices from falling below current levels.

Under the loan program, growers could store their cotton and obtain a government loan on it. Thus they CHICAGO. Oct. 20.—(7)—Scattered rains in some localities of the drouth stricken southwestern winter wheat belt caused enough selling to depress wheat prices about a cent a bushel today.

While the drought was by no means broken, grain men said weather conditions indicated further precipitation might occur in some districts. Important wheat producing regions in Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas and Nebraska, where much of the nation's crop is raised, need heavy rains to replenish serious ly depleted surface and subsoil moisture reserves.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—(R)—
White house approval of an agriculture department loan program on this year's cotton crop was reported today to have been withheld pending study of questions raised by the general accounting office.

It was said at the agriculture department that the general accounting office has raised objections to the program on the ground that it was not mandatory under provisions of the crop control law.
